A FUTURE FOR OUR PAST

HERITAGE LECTURE

Brought to you by the Warren Trust

Tickets are now available for the 2018 Heritage Lecture

The 2018 Heritage Lecture is an evening not-to-be missed for heritage lovers. Hear from two fantastic speakers at the Isaac Theatre Royal:

Richard McGowan: Principal with Warren and Mahoney

closely involved in the restoration, repair and rebuild of the Christchurch City Council Group 1 and Heritage NZ Category 1 listed Isaac Theatre Royal and Christchurch Club both of which, along with the R J S Stewart house, Glandovey Road, will be the focus for his lecture as part of the 2018 Christchurch Heritage Awards Charitable Trust lecture evening.

KEYNOTE: Jim Gard'ner: Conservation Architect & Heritage Consultant
Urban heritage in the 21st century: a changing past, an uncertain future.

Jim will be focussing on the theme of authenticity and the 'Disneyfication' of heritage in the US. Entitled 'Fake Heritage', it challenges Modernist architecture and New Urbanism equally and explores how America has regressed in its architectural thinking to Disneyland, Las Vegas and the 'McMansion'. Demonstrated through changes in public taste from the mid 18th century to early 21st century he argues that mass domestic architecture post 1960/70s has increasingly taken on historicist forms paralleling the loss of cultural confidence in the US and a nostalgia for the past – in particular the mythical American town.
